

TRUCK WRECKS ON 40 DUE TO ICY PAVEMENT

TWO ACCIDENTS OCCUR
AT NEARLY SAME SPOT
EARLY TODAY

Two big tractor-trailers were involved in separate accidents early Friday morning on U. S. 40, a short distance west of the junction with Highway 43.

State police said the two mishaps occurred around 1:30 a. m. and took place near the truck weighing scales.

The first accident involved a Mid-Continent Freight Line truck out of Oklahoma City which was driven by Maxie McGlaughlin, 33, of St. Louis. The truck was going east when it skidded and jack-knifed, coming to a stop across the roadway between the dual lane pavements.

Immediately afterwards, a Roadway Express truck driven by Howard E. Weston, 40, Indianapolis, also skidded near the same place and turned over blocking the westbound lanes.

Weston was taken to the Putnam county hospital where he was treated for bruises and lacerations.

These were the only two major accidents reported during the night following the snow Thursday afternoon which resulted in slippery streets and roads over the entire community.

State and county highway crews were called out as was the Greencastle street force when driving conditions began to grow hazardous.

Local sidewalks and some city streets as well as county roads were still icy Friday morning.

State police at 8 a. m. reported that U. S. 40 was clear with the exception of a few slick spots at bridge approaches. State Highway 43 was also listed as clear.

Sheriff Joe Rollings reported Friday morning that a traffic accident occurred at Clinton Falls at 9 o'clock Thursday night when Melvin Key's auto ran into a stalled truck. The slippery condition of the road caused the mishap.

The truck, which had run out of gasoline, belonged to Robert E. Coffin, Greencastle Route 1. The sheriff said the car was damaged about $200 but damage to the truck was minor.

WHAT ARE WE COMING TO?

Some Putnam County farmers have been "threatened" by those persons hired to collect farm census facts for not filling in the blanks sent them, and we know of one farmer who was told he would have to go to jail if he failed to fill out the report. He said it would require at least ten days to two weeks to figure out all the details the government is seeking. This included the amount of milk, the amount sold, used etc., and the amount of butter churned, the amount used, sold etc., and a lot of other silly questions. The collector gets 70 cents a report for picking them up, we are told, whereas the farmer gets nothing but headaches for trying to fill out the reports, which may be compiled into a report some 10 years from now. We wonder what we are coming to.

One hundred and fifty-five Masons were served during the annual rabbit supper of the Roachdale Masonic Lodge Thursday evening.

DPU Band Plans Concert Dec. 15th

Switching from the gridiron to the concert stage with only a few personnel changes and a new name, the DePauw University concert band opens its 1954-55 season here Wednesday night, Dec. 15.

Classical and contemporary compositions will be liberally mixed when the 70-piece band appears under Profs. Franklin I. Inglis and Dan H. Hanna in Meharry Hall at 8:15 p. m.

Operating as the DePauw Marching Band, the organization recently concluded a successful outdoor season, playing at all of DePauw's home football games and other events.

Wednesday's program will include the overture to Berlioz' "Beatrice and Benedict," Handel's "Water Music Suite," Ballabile from "Aida" by Verdi, and "Wotan's Farewell" and "Magic Fire Music" by Wagner.

The contemporary field will be represented in the Guadalupe March from Richard Rodgers' "Victory at Sea," "An Original Suite for Military Band" by Gordon Jacobs, and the second movement from Gillis' "Symphony No. 1 for Band."

Playing with this year's band, called "the best in recent years" by Professor Inglis, director of university bands, are students from 11 states and from both the College of Liberal Arts and the School of Music.

STRONG CASE FOR AVIATION BY COL. BLAIR

AIR ACE ADVOCATES FLYING
PROFESSION TO DE-
PAUW STUDENTS

Col. Charles Blair, winner of the 1952 Harmon Trophy for achievement in aviation, made a strong case for the flying profession at a DePauw University convocation this morning.

"If the young people of this country lose interest in the airplane," the commercial pilot and Air Force consultant said, "then we'd have no national defense. The result I leave to your imagination."

Pessimists claim that the guided missiles soon will ground all military aviators, Blair added, and that opportunities in commercial aviation rapidly are fading away.

But, he said, "the human brain always will be recognized as a highly-effective gadget, and so will the old-fashioned eye-ball. I doubt if any of us will live to see a passenger-carrying airplane operated as a guided missile."

Commenting on his history-making solo flight from Norway to Alaska across the North Pole, Blair noted that the Arctic route is becoming increasingly significant for commercial and military air travel.

Our lines of aerial defense now lie across the northern regions, he continued, "for the Arctic no longer is an impenetrable military barrier. Nor will be a barrier to trade routes of the future."

The polar route naturally is faster, according to Blair, but it also is more comfortable because the weather in that region is better for modern highspeed airplanes.

In a final word of advice to his student listeners, he told them that "the effective operation of bombers and fighters by the coming generation of pilots will be of the highest importance to our national security."

Referring to Theodore Roosevelt' often-quoted "foreign policy" statement, "Speak softly and carry a big stick," Blair said: "Our big stick today is the capability of our pilots."

Col. Sanders Is Kiwanis Speaker

Lt. Col. Frederick A. Sanders gave Kiwanians an insight on Air Force training problems when he spoke before this civic group following the weekly luncheon at the Memorial Student Union on Thursday. Prof. Howard Youse arranged the interesting program and introduced the head of the DePauw Air Force ROTC unit, Robert Gould.

Commenting on why we must have a strong and well trained air force, Col. Sanders spoke on the importance of the aptitude tests given cadets so as to be sure that the right men are selected to become pilots. The importance of this was further emphasized in the speaker's statement that it costs $60,000 for a twelve months training of one cadet, and $100,000 for him to complete his course to become a pilot. Col. Sanders stated that 8,000 men are trained each year under his program.

Interesting were brief descriptions of some of the armaments now being developed. As Col. Sanders mentioned, these developments are fascinating, but at the same time terrifying.

EVENT SUNDAY WILL HONOR EDETH CRAWLEY

A suite of rooms at the State Soldiers Home in Lafayette will be dedicated Sunday, Dec. 12th in memory of Edeth Crawley and Alice Walker, past department presidents of the VFW Ladies Auxiliary.

During the year '51 and '52 when Sister Crawley was department president, she chose the Soldiers Home Hospital at Lafayette as her project for the year. During her year a number of rooms were furnished with the latest of hospital room furniture by auxiliaries over the state. The newly furnished rooms were quite an improvement to the hospital and helped to make life more comfortable and cheerful for the patients of the hospital, which has been their home for many years.

A very fitting dedication ceremony has been planned by Sisters Leah Barnes and Nina Craigmile of Lafayette hospital, which will be presented at 2:00 p. m. Sunday.

Warning Issued By Auto Club

December, traditionally a month of fun and festivity, may cause more than 9,000 deaths from accidents this year, the Automobile Club of America said today.

In 1953 according to National Safety Council statistics, December led all other months with an accident fatality total of 9,400. Next highest: July, with 8,600.

"As a rule, motor vehicles are responsible for more accidental deaths than any other single cause," the Club stated. "National Safety Council reports from 21 states show that in approximately one out of every four such accidents, either the motorist or the pedestrian involved had been drinking."

Driving while under the influence of alcohol is particularly common during the December holiday season, because of excessive indulgence at Yule celebrations, it pointed out.

The Club advocated the following four-point safety program for party-goers:

1. Don't drive if you've been drinking.
2. Don't drive if you haven't been drinking. Maybe the other fellow has.
3. Don't ride with anyone who has been drinking.
4. If you're determined to drive after an evening of drinking, at least be smart enough to make your one-for-the-road beverage a cup of hot, strong coffee—it may get you home safely.

Dr. Sam Testifies In Own Defense

CLEVELAND, Dec. 10.—(UP)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard came today to the final, payoff climax of his story—the account of his battle with the bushy-haired man who he says killed his wife.

That life-or-death narration—which the jury must believe if Dr. Sam is to escape the electric chair—was expected to take the entire day.

Preliminary questions were out of the way. The stage was set for Dr. Sam's version of what happened in the chilly, windswept night of July 3-4 when pregnant Marilyn Reese Sheppard, 31, was bludgeoned to death in her bed.

"Now tell me," said defense attorney William J. Corrigan before today's session began, "does this man talk like a murderer?" What he talked like, during 2 hours and 20 minutes of testimony late Thursday, was a well-educated young brain surgeon which he is. An osteopathic physician and surgeon, he gave the jury his best bedside manner.

"He's got a lot of gab," said Chief Prosecutor John J. Mahon. "But I just want to hear what he says about July 4."

INDIANA'S TWP. TRUSTEES MEET, RE-ELECT BROWN

GROUP HEARS DISCUSSIONS ON STATE BUDGET AND SCHOOL PROBLEMS

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 10 — (UP)—J. Clayton Brown, Huntington, started a second term as president of the Indiana Township Trustees' Association today.

Brown was re-elected late Thursday by a vote of 143 to 88 over Verl H. Brown, Anderson.

The winner is identified with the Republican faction headed by Indiana's two U. S. Senators, while the Anderson man was linked to Former GOP State Chairman Noland Wright, a supporter of Governor Craig.

Trustees at the annual convention heard discussions of the state budget and school building problem from Lt. Gov. Harold Handley and State School Supt. Wilbur Young.

Handley said a 669 million dollar budget proposed for Indiana during the next two years probably will be trimmed by the 1955 legislature. He said Indiana's tax structure will not allow such a big drain on a general fund surplus.

He also defended the Legislative Advisory Commission's recommendation that state gasoline taxes be increased, though Governor Craig threatened to veto an increase if it is passed.

"Some people believe toll roads are the answer and toll roads have a place," Handley said. "But it takes time to build toll roads and they depreciate farm property while free roads appreciate farm property. We must do something for the entire state."

Young warned the trustees they should guard against "ultra-expensive frills" on school buildings.

He said construction costs must be kept within reason because "enemies of local government" are engaged in "an insidious plot to run the education bill up so high that eventually the taxpayer will throw up his hands and surrender to federal control of our schools."

Other association officers re-elected were Gerald Usrey, Dugger, Emmett Guthridge, Fowler, and Roy Schenck, Scottsburg, vice president; and T. C. Dickson, Parker, secretary-treasurer.

Newly elected were two vice-presidents, Clarence Myles, of Terre Haute and Ellsworth Peterson.

TENNESSEE GOV. TALKS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Tennessee Gov. Frank Clement said today the names, Nixon, Dixon and Yates" ought to be linked because they "represent a lowering of the American standard of public morals."

Clement made a combined attack on Vice President Richard M. Nixon and the Dixon-Yates power contract in an address prepared for delivery to the National Press Club.

"There is more than euphony to unite Nixon, Dixon and Yates," Clement said. "There is a distinctive similarity between the methods that have been employed in the Dixon-Yates deal and the Nixon campaigning methods in the recent congressional elections."

"They both represent a lowering of the American standard of public morals."

Clement mentioned as a Democratic vice presidential hopeful in 1956, said Nixon "without (Continued on Page Seven)

U. S. DELEGATE Henry Cabot Lodge listens to a few words from Britain's Anthony Nutting at the special UN General Assembly session in New York for debating resolution demanding that Red China free all UN personnel held since the Korean war. In debate, Lodge said, "Obviously, the Soviet representative said these men wore uniforms. Equally obviously, it is inconceivable that men of the U. S. armed forces . . . in uniform . . . would be engaged in espionage in China." Said Nutting, "The idea (that uniformed men would spy in a foreign country) is so fantastic that it is hard to understand how grown men can advance it as a serious charge." FAIRLY SPOKEN

Catch a Child's Interest And He'll Enjoy Reading By Margaret Latrobe

Were you "taught" to detest Shakespeare? Have you always shied away from reading, in general? Read slowly and painfully, if at all? Well, it isn't because you are stupid, my friend. Somewhere along the line, disenchantment set in. Someone or something blocked you from a superb skill and good friends—books.

People used to think that slow readers were a little short on gray matter, and that rapid readers were luckily endowed with high intelligence. The latest thinking of remedial reading specialists holds otherwise. They assure us now that reading skill can be learned by anybody, and rapid reading at that! And, of course, I do not refer to the unfortunate group of seriously retarded.

It has not so much bearing on individual IQ as upon the stimulation of individual interest through teaching techniques. Such techniques are being implemented over the country in clinics devoted to remedial reading.

To me this work appears as one of the great missionary accomplishments of our time. By raising the general reading level of each and every person, our every can concepts of racial tolerance, freedom, good government be understood by the illiterate? How can cultural, moral and religious growth be achieved by those whose reading grasp is limited to—"I see the cat on the mat"—?

Why don't they teach youngsters to read properly in the lower grades—as they did 50 years ago? Today's failures, which see eighth-graders reading on a third-grade level, are deplorable. But at least these children are not stopping at third grade, labelled "hopeless." At least we know they can be taught to read, if teachers and equipment are available.

(Yes, mother, they are going back to phonetics, they are spelling by syllable again, just the way you taught us. I could read and spell with the best of them, but how come you couldn't teach me arithmetic? My interest just wasn't captured!)

The soundness of little red schoolhouse techniques are being combined with modern soundness—which is in the understanding of individual differences. Once a child's interest is caught, they say, nothing can stop him from reading.

Which is the best news I've heard in a long time!

IN MEMORY

In memory of mother and grandmother, Mrs. Eva Sears, who passed away three years ago today.
Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could see
Our dear mom as she used to be? Wouldn't it be wonderful to see her smile,
And have her back for a little while?
Could we be wrong for wanting her so
When the angels want her too, we know?
No, we wouldn't disturb her peaceful rest,
For we know above all God knows best.
So he called her to his home on high,
But we'll miss our darling mom until the day we die.
Sadly missed by daughter, sons and grandchildren. p.

HARRIMAN, BUTLER TALK OF 'SPLIT'

Senator Joseph McCarthy (center) heads for a luncheon engagement with Governor-elect Averell Harriman of New York (left) and Paul Butler, new Democratic national committee chairman. Butler and Harriman later said that Senator Joseph McCarthy's attack on President Eisenhower was "evidence" of a split in the Republican party.

MARCH OF EVENTS

'57 Fateful Year Say Intelligence Observers | Russ Then May Match Our Nuclear Stockpile

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—In their differences over the issue of "peaceful co-existence" with the Soviet Union, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland are talking with one possibly fateful year in mind—1957.

That is the year, according to United States intelligence experts in which the Soviets will achieve sufficient strength in atomic and hydrogen weapons to match America's own nuclear stockpile.

Knowland feels that, far from attempting to negotiate what Dulles calls modus vivendi—or method of getting along with—the Kremlin the United States should redouble its preparedness effort in the atomic and other fields and become so strong Russia would not dare make war.

Dulles believes that such a massive emphasis on weapons production would spur Moscow to an all-out arms effort of its own and start a grim race which would throw free world economy and diplomacy out of balance.

● SQUEEZE PLAY—Fresh evidence has come to light on why John L. Lewis has been so silent for the past few years instead of staging his annual wage drive against the coal operators.

Actually, the incident in question received little notice. The Southern Coal Producers association, representing about one-quarter of total United States soft coal production, authorized its executive board to cancel the association's contract with Lewis' United Mine Workers of America on 60 days' notice.

SCPA has always claimed to be hardest hit by Lewis' hard bargains and has gone along with the rest of the industry only because it had to if it wanted to keep its mines open.

As everyone knows, the coal industry is in a bad way economically and the southern group apparently wanted to be in a position to act without delay if the need arose. Again, authorizing the executive board to cancel the contract may have been no more than a move to put a further deterrent in the way of any new wage demands Lewis might have in mind.

Board members made it perfectly clear that there is no immediate intention to use the new authority.

● EX-VEEP PROBLEM—The election of former Vice President Alben Barkley to the Senate in which he served as Democratic leader for so long, raises unusual problems.

Usually, new senators—even if they have previously been members of the upper chamber—are seated in the back row. However, no one wants to give the venerable Barkley a back seat. As Senate Democratic leader he used to have a front seat. He may get an in-between one this time.

New senators also get the least attractive committee assignments. Barkley used to have his pick of these. No one seriously believes he will be relegated to the District of Columbia committee but it will represent something of a problem to work him into a major spot without hardship to senators in line for something better because of their unbroken seniority.

 6 D All Pass

She had well above a minimum opening and might have raised Mr. Dale's club bid, but she preferred the more conservative call of three no trump.

However, when Mr. Dale finally got around to raising diamonds, it became clear to her that he had a fine hand for a diamond contract and that his previous bids had been made mainly to show where his side strength was.

So over four diamonds, Mrs. Fusty went all the way to six. Mr. Heinsite led the king of spades which was ruffed in dummy. After cashing the ace and king of diamonds, Mrs. Fusty led the deuce of clubs.

STANDARD PROCEDURE
 The standard procedure with this club holding is to plan to take two finesses in the suit, hoping that the left-hand opponent holds the 10, and one of the higher honors.

Following this plan here, Mrs. Fusty would have finessed the eight on the first lead. That would have lost to the 10, and the hope of losing only one club trick would have been gone.

But the play is standard only for standard players—and that doesn't include Mrs. Fusty. She saw a better percentage play for 11 tricks.

MRS. FUSTY'S PLAYS
 When Mr. Heinsite followed suit with the trey of clubs at trick four, she went right up with dummy's ace. She returned to her hand with the king of hearts.

Not Surprised

AFTER the U. S. Senate "condemns" him on the first count of censure charges for "contempt" of a Senate subcommittee, Senator Joseph R. McCarthy (R), Wisconsin, tells newsmen in the radio gallery of the Senate wing of the Capitol he is not surprised. (International) cashed the ace of spades and discarded a small club from dummy. She ruffed her last spade. Now she cashed dummy's ace and queen of hearts and got rid of a club from her own hand. Dummy's last heart was ruffed in the closed hand and a club lead then put Mr. Heinsite in with the king. He had nothing left but spades and his spade return enabled Mrs. Fusty to ruff in dummy while discarding the last club from her hand.

WAR 1220'S SON

BOSTON—(UP)—Boston College has a "carbon copy" of a war hero graduate, and the bright-eyed freshman still carries his father's famous letter.

Cmdr. John J. Shea went down with the carrier Wasp in 1942, three months after writing his son and namesake: "Study hard... Be a leader in everything good."

This fall Jackie entered Boston College after graduating from Boston College High School with high honors. "I feel Dad is here with me when I have the letter in my hand," he said. "I know how he felt and how he would want me to act in every situation."

The boy turned down a chance to attend the Naval Academy to enroll at Boston College where the Commander Shea Room stands as a memorial to the famous winner of the Navy Cross for extraordinary heroism.

Only one-seventh of the Sahara desert is naked sand. The rest is covered by vegetation.

"Cow trees" that grow in the tropical forests of Venezuela and Brazil yield a white nutritious sap that is almost indistinguishable from true milk. It can be drunk as it comes from the tree, used in cooking, or even made into whipped cream.

COLOR TV TO BOOST

CHICAGO—(UP)—Color television will make the black and white family portrait "obsolete almost overnight," a prominent photographer predicts.

Paul L. Gittings, former president of the Photographers' Association of America, said "the viewing public will become accustomed to color television so rapidly that the photographic industry will be hard pressed to keep pace with the consequent demand for color photos."

Weddings and society functions in the future, Gittings said, "will be recorded exclusively in color."

"Direct color formal portraits of the bride and direct color or stereo-color candid of the ceremonies will be 'must items' in the wedding budget," Gittings said.

ASSAULTS NIXON

"proof" impugned the loyalty of Sen. James E. Murray, D. Mont., in the fall political campaign. He said Nixon in a speech at Butte, Mont., quoted a "purported secret memorandum" from the Communist party directing its leaders to "achieve unity behind single candidates in Democratic primaries."

He said Nixon throughout the country "spearheaded the false hood that Democrats ruled under 20 years of treason and that the government was riddled with security risks."

In observance of Women's Day Miss Edith Walden, returned missionary from India, will speak at the morning worship service of the Fillmore Christian church Sunday, Dec. 12.

Miss Walden is a native of Indiana and a graduate of Franklin College with the A. B. degree in liberal arts. Miss Walden also spent a year in graduate study at Vanderbilt University School of Religion, Scarritt College, and Kennedy School of Missions. She sailed for India in October, 1940.

After eleven years of service in the Madhya Pradesh area Miss Walden is at home on furlough and is serving field assignments under the direction of The United Christian Missionary Society. Everyone will surely want to hear her.

Now that you've seen them all...you can judge why the

1955 Studebaker STILL SETS THE PACE in advanced style

The design that won 30 outstanding awards

Now that you've seen virtually all the 1955 cars, you know the low Studebaker silhouette is the aim of most car designers. But Studebaker has gone even more distinctive for 1955—with lines and looks that again are easily a year ahead in smartness. Increased power and performance, too. New low-level competitive prices.

Studebaker...so much better made...worth more when you trade!

Old Gold Seeks Second ICC Win

A second straight conference victory will be DePauw's goal here Saturday night when the Bengals take the Bowman Gymnasium floor against Indiana State.

Cal Luther's quintet knocked off ICC opponent Ball State, 67-56, Wednesday and put their season's record at the proverbial three aces—one win, one loss, and one tie.

Indiana State, playing its seventh campaign under John Longfellow, will bring to town virtually the same squad which last year tied DePauw and Ball State for fourth place in the league.

Indiana's representative at the 1954 NAIA tournament in Kansas City, the Sycamores dropped two of their first three games this season—downing Belmont but losing to Franklin and Concordia of St. Louis.

A pair of sophomore forwards paced their respective clubs during opening three-game spans, with DePauw's Bob Schrier bagging 49 points and ten Staters' Joe Lee picking up 47.

On the move now is the Bengals' young pivotman, 6' 5 Sam Uimer, who had his best night of the season against Ball State with 14 points and 17 rebounds. Schrier finished with 16 markers, and guard Bob Pierce with 13.

Main helpers for the 6' 4 Lee, who finished second in ICC scoring last year and had 441 points for the entire campaign, have been sophomore forward Bill Sisk and veteran guard Jim Cox. After each team took the home end of a here-and-there series in '53-'54, the all-time record between the two teams moved to a 22-15 advantage for DePauw. Competition started in 1904.

A preliminary tilt will match DePauw and Indiana State reserves at 6:15 p. m. with the young Bengals looking for their third in a row. They downed Wabash last week and, led by Frank Estes' 25 points, beat Atterbury Air Base, 75-46, Wednesday.

EXTRA!

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10—A triumphant U. S. Navy Saturday will launch the largest American ship ever built, the $197,859,000 super aircraft carrier U. S. S. Forrestal.

The mighty man of war, 1,035 feet long and displacing 59,650 tons, will be eased gently into Hampton Roads, Va., with pomp befitting a new capital ship specially designed for the jet-atomic age.

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and others will wish the ship well in speeches to an audience of congressmen, government officials, military leaders, shipyard executives and workers. The gigantic flattop will be sponsored by Mrs. James V. Forrestal, widow of the first defense secretary whose name it bears.

DOCTOR WAS ROBBED
HONOLULU, T. H. Dec. 10—M. Burgess called a meeting of all doctors in the Straub Clinic on Thursday to relay a police warning to lock their autos because drug addicts had been stealing doctors' bags.

COACH CHANGES JOES
WICHITA, Kan. Dec. 10—(UP)—Earl Craven, football coach at Friends University since 1949, has resigned to accept a similar post at Taylor University, Upland, Ind.

Craven submitted his resignation to university president Lloyd Cressman, effective Jan. 22.

NAZI ROWDIES ACTIVE
BERLIN, Dec. 10—(UP)—The jack-booted rowdies and Jew baiters of the Nazi era have made a sinister reappearance in West Berlin.

Their activities in the recent election campaign recalled the bloody election battles of 1932 when Adolf Hitler's "Brown-shirts" bludgeoned their way to power in the most lawless period of German history.

West Berliners, who regarded themselves as the most freedom-loving and Democratic of the German people, are shocked to discover the would be Storm Troopers still among them.

The biggest shock came at a "German Party" election rally when spectators who refused to sing "Deutschland Ueber Alles" were dragged from their seats, savagely beaten and denounced as "Jewish swine."

"You seem to have escaped the jeered at them.

The party officials were wearing jack boots, tight-fitting riding breeches, field grey shirts and black ties.
